Explore ...

the Castle's interior.

Highcliffe Castle was built in the 1830s by aristocrat Lord Stuart de Rothesay and was once a lavish home to the rich and prominent, including the likes of the Selfridge family.

Now partially restored after two devastating fires in the 1960s, the Castle offers a fascinating visitor experience telling the story of its past, present and future.

Engage ...

with our activities for families; from our interactive displays and extensive array of period dressing up clothes, to our programme of trails and crafts.

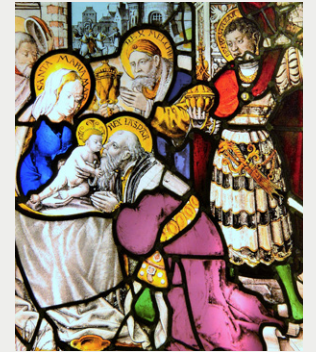

Head outside to enjoy the sea air and woodland walks, or bring a picnic to enjoy on the sunny lawns.

Experience ...

our exciting programme of temporary exhibitions and events.

Each year the Castle hosts an exciting programme of events which offers something for all tastes. Castle State Room events include concerts and creative fairs, whilst outdoor highlights include open air theatre plus big band jazz and swing concerts on the lawns.
